Rodeo action comes to the Missoula area this weekend as the University of Montana hosts the NIRA Northwest Regional Rodeo. Billed as the 2nd Annual Bitterroot Rodeo, the action will take place in the Hamilton Indoor Arena starting Saturday (April 29) at 1 p.m.

UM didn't do well at MSU last weekend, placing only two people in the top ten, Vonnie Bugli and Kay Fowley. Faculty adviser Duane "Pete" Pettersen attributes the poor showing thus far in the season to the youth and inexperience of the team. "We do well in the practice riding, but the team is young and they haven't learned to handle the competition," said Pettersen. "We'll start working when we get our heads and guts together," Pettersen said.

Two men from the team, Cal Wilson and Steve Small, are presently attending a bronc riding school in Great Falls and will be there for the remainder of the week.

Pettersen hopes the UM rodeoers will gain confidence from riding on home ground, as well as having the experience of four rodeos behind them.

Benny Reynolds, National All-around Rodeo Champion for 1963, will be one of the judges at the rodeo. A rodeo queen will be selected Saturday night. Admission is $1.50 for adults, $1 for students, 50 cents for children and $5 for families.

Reg Kessler is the rodeo producer.
